Jen Ehrler

Ultrasonographer / X-ray Technologist

Jen Ehrler has come a long way since she began her medical career as a CNA in our nursing home while she was in high school. Graduating from X-ray and Ultrasound school you can now find Jen working as an Ultrasonographer / X-ray technologist in the Imaging Department.

Every day, people come into hospitals seeking answers to their medical questions. Jen finds her job rewarding because she is able to play a role in helping patients unlock the mystery of their medical conditions and see themselves literally, in a new way. She enjoys working with people and sees each patient as unique and special. Due to the ever changing advancements in technology, Jen finds enjoyment in keeping up with the latest developments in ultrasound and x-ray.

Outside of her work at the hospital, Jen enjoys staying active, spending time with friends and family, working around the house and cooking. Her countless hours of dedication at Midwest Medical Center are worthy of this recognition as Employee of the Month because she is a valuable and beneficial member of the team.
